*No institutional chefs (i.e. food service distributors, hospitals, culinary school instructors, or chefs for chains having 10 or more restaurants) will be allowed to compete.

*Each chef will be responsible for plating up to six entrées for judges with Mississippi Gulf seafood as the main protein.

*Each chef is responsible for his or her own travel and ingredients costs. Those traveling from more than 100 miles away will be eligible for a travel stipend of $150.

*The winning chef will represent Mississippi for the Great American Seafood Cook-Off on the first weekend in August in New Orleans, so chefs ensure this does not conflict with their schedule before participating in the Mississippi Seafood Cook-Off.
